

I. BMW 2020 #3 – Biblical Femininity – Part 2

A. The Definition of Biblical Femininity

Definition: To be maturely feminine is to understand and embrace the unique aspects and responsibilities of being specially created as a female in the image of God including: love and submission to God; conformity to the image of Christ, helper and co-steward in culture; co-laborer and friend to women; affirming receiver and nurturer of male strength and leadership; gifted helper and joyful submitter in marriage; servant minister and discipler in the church; loving, nurturing, life-giver as a mother.

Biblical Complimentarianism

In the beginning, God created men and women in His own image, equal in nature and value, but different in role and responsibility. After the fall both image and roles were marred but not removed and only in Christ can men and women regain the ability to properly compliment one another and thus reflect God's glory.
